

SACRED JOURNEY CHURCH

Faith Seeking Understanding

January 2011

Sacred Journey is a new Church in Providence, RI for people seeking spiritual answers. We are a place to bring your doubts, and questions, without feeling judged to you can explore God's deep love for you and your family.

*Making a way
for those who have given up on religion but not on God. We are a community where you can explore the Christian faith
without being pressured or feeling judged.*

We are currently doing a sermon series on the six commitments of what it means to be a disciple and follower of Jesus. Click Here to Listen for Last Sunday's sermon. Also don't forget all our sermon audio can be found as Podcasts on iTunes or downloaded directly from our website!

Another bit of news is that you can now view our first SJC Promo video "A Lively Experiment" by clicking here.

How to Handle Criticism

We all get criticized at some time or another. Criticism is just that thing that is a two edged sword in that while on the one hand, it hurts so much and when not done in the right spirit, can be extremely destructive, it is on the other hand an essential of life for us to become the kind of person we need and want to be. Our gut reaction is to reject criticism, become defensive, or worse sling mud back. I have have found as a general rule that most criticisms of me always have at least some partial truth to it.
