Prayers and Praises

- My final time in Kenya was a blessed time for me personally as well as for the work. The Volunteer Management Training kicked off strong!
- Pray for the CRWRC-Kenya office as they transition to a new person in my position. May the person be a strong match in the office and work.
- Praise God that the new staff member will have the opportunity to travel to the North American offices for orientation and training to help him or her better succeed at the job.
- Pray that I have the right words as I share about our work in Kenya.

Amy in Africa is now Amy in America

The time has come. I cannot believe it but today I find myself sitting in my parents' living room writing you my final newsletter. I pray that this finds you well and that this letter will give you a good sense of how important you are to me and the ministry here at CRWRC. I also hope that you will find some ways that you can remain involved in both my life and CRWRC as time marches along.

Stay Connected

It's been an amazing two years. God has taught me humility as I've watched people live in ways I never thought imaginable – good and bad. God has continued to teach me the joy and value of learning, even when I don't want to or I think the topic is 'uninteresting.' God has taught me that He knows me better than I do, that He takes care of me and that His plans are far bigger than any that I could imagine.

I will always thank God for each of you and your desire to serve Him by supporting me and the work of CRWRC as we seek to live justice and love mercy. It's not always an easy task but I encourage us to continue learning and stay involved in the same types of work that we've been learning about the past two years.

CRWRC and CRCNA (Christian Reformed Church of North America) have some great opportunities to serve and learn. I have a resource page on my blog at rubyslipperlady.wordpress.com but have listed some on this page. I do hope that you will take a moment to think of how you would like to remain involved in both CRWRC and the transforming work that they are doing around the world as well as in the fight to which God calls us.

“Learn to do good. Seek justice. Help the oppressed. Defend the cause of orphans. Fight for the rights of widows.”

-Isaiah 1:17
