From every nation, culture and language...

God's call to reconciliation for his people is at the heart of the work that he prepared for us to do (see 2 Cor. 5:17-18).

Our vision as the Christian Reformed Church in North America is to reflect a multicultural, multiethnic leadership that models God's Diverse and Unified Family. We believe that this vision applies to every entity and assembly of the Christian Reformed Church.

Diversity & Inclusion

The Diversity and Inclusion Working Group (DIWG) was assembled to implement the directives of Synod 2013 by promoting diversity in our denominational leadership. The group consists of ministry leaders and others from across the CRC and is accountable to the Executive Director.

The DIWG is working to increase the participation and inclusion of people from different ethnic groups, cultures and races within the CRC and its leadership. It also seeks to engage with the wider CRC community to ensure that the vision of diversity and inclusiveness is widely embraced.

Get Engaged

We invite everyone who is passionate about this vision of diversity to join the conversation. To learn more, or to complete a short survey, please visit us at www.crcna.org/diversity or write to diversity-inclusion@crcna.org.
